

New Brunswick during past hunting season.

Rudy Barthel, famous, or infamous, as gunfighter in Colorado labor troubles, was accidentally shot and killed by Manager Ben Wilkinson in Bloom clothing store, Lead, S. D.

Rev. Thomas M. Brewer, arrested for complicity in dynamiting of government buildings at Fort Riley, Kan., has proved complete alibi, and government is apologizing.

Elmer Hembrook, 19, Milwaukee, Wis., committed suicide because his wife was suing him for divorce.

Mayor Gaynor wont allow mothers to take infants to N. Y. moving picture shows. So picture houses have installed check rooms for babies.

Senate committee was only kidding when it said Lorimer investigation was going to be finished up before Christmas holidays.

George B. McClelland, known to young America and Thomas Edison as "Diamond Dick," is dead in Kansas. He was born in N. Y., but spent most of his life in "wild and wooly" west.

But why should a man whose first name is George be called Dick?

On the other hand, what is J. Ogden Armour's first name?

Oh, well, probably it's John or James, or something common like that.

Lieut. Lyons, N. Y. police department, has been left $20,000 by Elmira woman he befriended when her pocket was picked 15 years ago.

We publish this as hint to some Chicago police inspectors who are having difficulty in explaining where they got all the money they "saved out of their salaries."

After long research, Dr. Wm. H. Furness, Philadelphia, says chimpanzees have reasoning powers, just like human beings and J. Ogden Armour.

We always suspected it ourselves, but you can't blame the chimpanzees for trying to keep it dark.

John Hays Hammond, jr., son of the noted engineer, has invented torpedo which he says he can control through water by wireless electrical power.

It's getting easier to kill people every day.

George Hartman, 5, Galveston, Tex., lost for three days, was found cuddled up between two big panthers, which were keeping him warm.

If his parents are rich, human being probably would have held him for ransom.

In asking for divorce, Mrs. Barbara Leland, Cleveland, said her husband made her clean his horses, sold her property, spent the money and then blackened her eyes. She got it.

"W. R. Hearst eulogized as 'Friend of All Humanity.'"

You couldn't guess what newspaper that is from, could you?

We thought you couldn't.
